

LEGAL NOTICES AND TERMS OF USE

This website (<http://www.jp Moriarty.com>) and its entire contents are provided as a service to its customers by J. P. Moriarty & Co., Inc. (D/B/A/ J. P. Moriarty Millwork), which retains all ownership rights in materials, artwork, illustrations, informational content, logos, commercial trademarks, price lists, and other forms of commercial and intellectual property, except as specifically disclaimed in this notice. By using this site, and by downloading or printing content, you agree to abide by certain limitations for the protection of the rights retained by the owner of the site and its content, J. P. Moriarty & Co., Inc. If you do not agree to abide by these conditions, do not use this site or its contents.

All source designs for actual historical molding profiles, millwork patterns, representations of the classical orders, millwork assemblies, and other types and patterns of actual historical millwork represented in this site are, to the best knowledge of the content's owner, in the public domain. All source designs for molding profiles and millwork patterns shown, and numbered and offered for sale in this site, and originating not from actual historical sources but from the creative efforts of the site's owner, J. P. Moriarty & Co., Inc., its employees and agents, are by this reference placed in the public domain. All other designs and illustrations originating from the creative efforts of the site's owner, J. P. Moriarty & Co., Inc., its employees and agents, and not numbered and offered for sale, but used for the purposes of textural illustration, promotion, or other artistic effects, remain the property of J. P. Moriarty & Co., Inc.

Claims to property rights extend to the creation of: digital artwork representing such designs and patterns numbered and offered for sale, photographs, sketches, informational and promotional text, web site architecture, organizational formatting, part numbering systems, price lists, logos and trade marks, and groupings and arrangements of the content.

PERMITTED USES

Visitors to this site may copy, print, or download limited quantities of content from the site for personal, non-commercial use; and in the case of architects, builders, or other construction or design professionals, for the description or specification of products shown herein, provided that all such copied, printed or downloaded content is not separated from any of the owner's logos, identifying information, distinctive part numbers, disclaimers, notices, or other indicia of content ownership.

PROHIBITED USES

Reproduction, publication, republication, transmission or rebroadcast of any part of this site's contents, except as provided for above, or as otherwise expressly stipulated in writing by J. P. Moriarty & Co., Inc., is strictly prohibited.

LINKS FROM OTHER WEB SITES

Links to this site from other web sites are permitted in accordance with the following conditions:

1. Links must be to the opening page only, (<http://www.jp Moriarty.com>) and not to any sub-page within this site, and must be shown full screen. Links must clearly indicate in text only that the link is to the "Official web site of J. P. Moriarty Millwork".
2. Nothing in the content of the linking site, or page where the link is displayed, may be such as to damage, disparage or other reflect negatively upon the name, goodwill or other interests of J. P. Moriarty Millwork or J. P. Moriarty & Co., Inc., or promote a false impression of our affiliation with, or endorsement of, the linking entity.
3. Permission to link to this site does not grant any license for the use of content, trademarks or other commercial property. J. P. Moriarty & Co., Inc. reserves all rights to the exclusive ownership of its content; and, at its sole discretion, to terminate its consent to links from any site; and to take action